

Shree Vitragay Namaha

QUANTITY OF SIN ACCUMULATED BY EATING AT NIGHT

The quantity of sin accumulated by drying up a pond is equal to that if a fisherman keeps on killing fishes until 95 births

The quantity of sin accumulated by setting a forest on fire is equal to that if a person keeps on drying up ponds until 108 births

The quantity of sin accumulated by uttering a single malicious word is equal to that if a person sets forests ablaze until 108 births

The quantity of sin accumulated by one time of false accusation is equal to that if a person keeps on uttering malicious words until 144 births

The quantity of sin accumulated by one time of non-celibate thought is equal to that if a person keeps on doing the activity of false accusation until 51 births

The quantity of sin accumulated by eating just one time at night is equal to that if a person keeps on embracing non-celibate thought until 88 births